

TUESDAY EVENING, NOV. 19, 1895.

FROM WASHINGTON.

(Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. The probability that the Hawaiian Congress will pass a measure pensioning Princess Kaiulani is foreboding in official circles here. She is the niece of the late King Kalakaua. Her father is A. S. Cleghorn, a prominent merchant of Honolulu. When the national congress assembled in special session last June the government prepared a bill giving the princess a pension of $5,000 a year. This was to compensate her for the loss which she sustained in the establishment of the republic, inasmuch as, had she lived, she would have succeeded to the throne upon the death of her aunt, Liliuokalani. The radical members of the republican party fought the bill fiercely and defeated it. Since that time public sentiment has grown more favorable to the proposition and it is not unlikely that the pension will be voted to her when congress meets.

The Assistant Secretary of the Interior has decided that the attorney's title to a fee is dependent on his client's title to a pension, and where a pension has been fraudulently obtained the Commissioner of Pensions may require the refund of the fee paid the attorney who prosecuted the claim as well as the pension so paid the claimant. Judge Reynolds has also decided that where satisfactory evidence has been presented that a widow has abandoned the care of the minor children of a deceased soldier, "or is an unsuitable person, by reason of immoral conduct, to have the custody of the same," such children may be pensioned in the same manner as if no widow had survived such soldier, regardless of a certificate of a probate court as to such facts.

The general assembly of the Knights of Labor this morning paid its attention once more to the Supreme Court of the United States, the occasion this time being the decision handed down yesterday by Justice Brewer affirming the decision of Judge Ross of the Circuit Court in the conspiracy case against the American Railway Union at Los Angeles, Cal. Grand Master Workman Sovereign introduced and the assembly passed resolutions by a unanimous vote protesting against the decision as an outrage on justice and pronouncing it an outrage on the liberties of the people.

Cornel B. J. Kirk writes the Department of State from Copenhagen that the Danish Millers' Association have petitioned the Rigsdag for a protective duty on all flour brought into Denmark. While the petition asks for protection against Germany it is really intended to keep out flour from the United States, which sends the greater amount to Denmark.

The President has appointed John L. Peak, of Kansas City, Mo., as Minister to Switzerland, vice Broadhead, resigned, and Otto Munchmeyer, of West Virginia, as consul at San Salvador, Salvador.

In addition to the bad condition of the ships of the navy, it is said here, in naval circles, that should the country be involved in a naval war, there would not be near enough skillful engineers in the service to run them safely and properly.

Secretary Carlisle left here this morning for New York. He will be the principal speaker to-night at the Chamber of Commerce banquet. His address will be confined to financial topics. In the Secretary's forthcoming report, he will advise Congress to authorize the Treasury Department to issue low interest bonds of small denominations.

Senator Mills has arrived here from his home in Texas. He says the principles of democracy can never die, and that if the democratic party had a leader in whom it had implicit confidence and who had won its admiration and affection, it would soon regain its ascendancy.

State Senator Echols of Virginia, who is here to-day, says he was one of the four democratic Senators who fought the Walton law when it was on its passage, but that since he has observed its practical operation his views of it have changed, and that if it must be amended, he thinks it will only be by striking it out entirely.

President Roberts of the Pennsylvania Railroad says the branch of that road to run from the Long Bridge to the Aqueduct Bridge on the south bank of the Potomac, will be completed and in running order in three or four weeks.

Mr. Peter Keelan, the old and well known night clerk at the Metropolitan Hotel here, died yesterday evening.

Senator Daniel passed through here yesterday on his way home from New York. To people from his State with whom he talked he said he had not yet attempted to discover the reasons for the late democratic defeat, the fact of that defeat being enough for him at present. His colleague, Senator Martin, arrived here to-day.

Men of affairs here, familiar with ex-Secretary Whitney, say that to his friends and privately he laughs at the idea of his accepting the democratic Presidential nomination, as he thinks there would be no chance of his election. Indeed the prevailing opinion here on the subject is, that no body except Mr. Cleveland would accept such a nomination.

FROM TURKEY.

The Young Turks' movement is spreading in spite of the efforts made by the Turkish officials to suppress it. Anti-Christian placards have been torn down by the police at Scutari, Albania. It was stated in London that the assembling of the British and foreign fleets in Salonica bay is having a good effect upon the Turkish government, but the Anglo-Armenian Association in London received advices from Armenia that their people were being massacred everywhere in Asia Minor, and that over 100,000 were dying of exposure and starvation.

The revolutionary movement is said to be spreading in Turkey, and it is estimated that the Armenian outrages have been countenanced by the Porte to attract attention from Mohammedan movement against the Sultan. The American missionaries at Bitlis have been compelled to return to Van under escort of Turkish troops.

The Imam of Sana, the capital city of Yemen, Arabia, at the head of 45,000 Arabs, has defeated the Turks in three battles.

A Valuable Title Acquired.

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 19.—A contest of ten years' standing over the title to 120 acres of land in the heart of the city, which has been waged between H. T. Crowley and the Northern Pacific Railway, was yesterday practically settled in favor of the former by the United States Supreme Court. The land is valued at over $1,000,000. Many fine buildings have been built on this land, the owners of which now have no title to the ground.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The battleship Indiana was yesterday turned over to Capt. Evans at the League Island navy yard.

General Garcia, who took part in the former uprising in Cuba, has, with three companions, broken his Spanish parole and come to the United States to join the Cuban revolutionary committee.

Sentiment is being cultivated in Honolulu to grant Princess Kaiulani, heir apparent to the throne, a pension of $6,000 a year. Many of the legislators have expressed themselves as favorable to the proposition.

A Great Northern train was held up by eight or ten men three miles west of St. Cloud, Minn., about 10:15 last night. The robbers cut the train in two and ordered the engineer to go ahead. This he did. The amount stolen is not known.

As anticipated four new directors of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, representing New York and foreign interests, succeeded the late Wesley A. Tucker and Messrs. Jas. Sloan, Jr., Wm. T. Dixon and J. Wilcox Brown, retired.

Senator Dubois believes the republicans will hold the caucus. "We will hold a caucus," he said in Washington yesterday, "and select our officers, and when they are proposed for election in the Senate they will, in all probability, be elected. Senator Jones, of Nevada, will vote with us, and this, with the two Senators from Utah, will give us a majority without any aid from the populists."

Attorney General Hancock, of New York, has decided the Tobacco Trust case against the American Tobacco Company on the ground that under the conspiracy laws their consent agreement which compels dealers to sell their goods exclusively is illegal and constitutes a trust. The attorney general will immediately begin action in the supreme court to prohibit the company from doing business in New York State.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

At a meeting of the East Hanover Presbytery in Richmond, yesterday, Rev. Geo. H. Ray, Jr., who withdrew from the Methodist Church, was received as licentiate in the Presbyterian Church.

At Charlottesville yesterday a special grand jury brought in two indictments against Dan Lee, colored, who murdered one of his slaves, and one for assault with intent to kill, but not for criminal assault. He will be tried at once.

The Fredericksburg city council has authorized the committee on light to contract with the Rappahannock Electric Light and Power Company for lighting the streets with arc lights for three years at $60 per light per annum. The city has been paying a higher rate heretofore.

The executive committee of the board of directors of the Union Theological Seminary met in Richmond, last night, to consider further the plan for removing the seminary to that city. The committee will to-day view the new site donated by Major Ginter and probably appoint a building committee.

LETTER FROM J. C. GIBSON.

Mr. J. C. Gibson, in answer to several questions put to him recently, has written a letter to the Fredericksburg Free Lance, in which he expresses his views on the recent elections, expounds democracy, the great political questions upon which parties have been at issue for years, describes the silver struggle, the demands of the silver mugs and the gold bugs, the question of negro domination in Virginia, fraudulent elections, &c. His letter is about two columns and a half in length. In the concluding portion he says:

"Beaten I was 'by the count,' and there is no redress, because the only appeal is to a body elected under the law which defeated me, and now I am asked what is my position to the democratic party. It is adverse. It does not now represent my principles; it has repudiated me; kicked me out; refused to admit me to its back yard; cheated me; why should I fight for it? I am not the born son of Cedric, the Saxon, nor the bought slave of the Knight Templar. I shall fight the southern democracy because it has fought me. I am not Samson, nor am I armed with the jaw-bone of an ass. When Satan was kicked out of heaven by Michael, he brought up in hell, though it took him several days to get there. When his satanic majesty from Culpeper was kicked out of the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he felt on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it and splits upon it, and clinging to the high heaven of the Southern democracy, he feels on his feet somewhere. He must go to some party. It is not meet for man to live alone. Where shall he go? He can't go to the populists; they have a name but no local habitation; they have no party and no history. It would be a sad necessity to be compelled to go to a party which has so long denounced me and my people as traitors, but we could still talk back at them. Old things have passed away, and behold all things are new. The national issue is, should the United States coin the many billions of the world's silver at 16 to 1, and then redeem it at 32 to 1. The national democracy refuses to solve this riddle; it simply straddles it